CPYRGHT

Col. C. C. Blakeney, Expert In Psychological Warfare

who pioneered developments in ceived an Army commission his retirement from the Army honors from Purdue Uniin 1954, died of emphysema versity where he was in the yesterday at Walter Reed Med-ROTC. ical Center.

came the Central Intelligence logical Warfare Branch in 1942. Agency.

During World War II he commanded the Psychological fice of Strategic Services in of Scarsdale, N. Y.; his mother, telligence work in London.

Aided MacArthur

During the Korean conflict he was chief of intelligence for Thursday at the Fort Myer the 9th Army Corps and did Chapel, with full military intelligence work for Gen. honors at burial in Arlington Douglas MacArthur in Kone. Cemetery. Douglas MacArthur in Korea and Japan.

the Order of the British Em- Hawes Dunn, of 2225 Observapsychological warfare before after graduating in 1922 with

Col. Blakeney, a much-decorated intelligence officer, had served in 1945 as executive officer of the Central Intelligence Group which later became the Control Intelligence Service in 1941.

That group became the Psycho-decorated Intelligence Intelligen He served as an artillery

Rites Thursday

Col. Blakeney leaves his wife, Warfare Branch of the Mili- Mary, of Chanbourne, their tary Intelligence Service until estate near Leesburg, Va.; a the branch was transferred to daughter, Mrs. J. R. Horowitz, 1943. For the remainder of Mrs. Charles J. Blakeney, of the war he did classified in-Denver; a sister, Mrs. William J. Roth, of Salina, Kans., and a brother, Col. Creswell G. Blakeney, of Princeton, N. J.

Services will be at 2 p.m.

ouglas MacArthur in Korea Ind Japan.

Among his awards were the the form of contributions to French Croix de Guerre and WARDS, in care of Mrs. Peyton tory place N.W.